Boutique law firm Romer Debbas LLP has named firm partners Stephen W. Allen, Michael R. Feldman and Jonathan Helfer co-managers of the residential real estate department. New York City's largest dedicated residential real estate practice, the department encompasses 20 professionals who handle all aspects of residential matters, many of which are for high-profile clients across the finance, business, sports and entertainment industries.

Allen has been practicing in the field of real estate for over 20 years, helping clients navigate often complicated purchase and sale transactions with proven experience and invaluable insights.

Feldman concentrates his practice on representing buyers, sellers and lending institutions in residential and commercial real estate transactions and is well versed in the areas of contract negotiation and due diligence. Helfer has handled and supervised thousands of transactions, from the most basic to the most complex residential and commercial deals over the past 15-plus years.
